

Amtico delivers a caring finish

A chain of residential care homes throughout Cumbria continues to enjoy the benefits of Amtico International for its easy maintenance flooring.

Since opening its first 40-bed retirement home in 1987, Risedale Estates Ltd, has gone on to open a further seven properties, all of which have been fitted with Amtico's functional and contemporary flooring.

Amtico delivers a caring finish

Its most recent complex, Abbey Meadow, saw approximately 4,000 square meters of Amtico Washed Teak specified throughout the home's communal areas. The flooring was installed in a range of formats creating feature areas edged in Amtico Molten Liquid Lead forming an aesthetic finish.

Charles Dent, director of Risedale Estates Ltd, said: "We required a durable floor that can withstand dents and marks from wheelchairs and trolleys and is easy to maintain. At the same time we needed a floor that is quiet underfoot and beautiful to look at, after all we are more than just a business; we are a home to each of our residents.

"We have always found Amtico International meets all of our needs, bringing a stylish and durable finish to every project they complete."
