In September 2010, the City of Stoke on Trent Sixth Form College opened the doors to its brand new state of the art development which incorporates world class resources and design features to provide outstanding learning facilities

Broadway Malyan selected Amtico's popular Fused Birch for corridor's, staircases and library at the new site. The natural soft tone of the wood brought warmth and depth to busy areas of the building. It was important that the product met the demands of the education sector, due to Amtico's versatility, ease of maintenance and most importantly its high durability it was the perfect choice.
